

Citrus reticulata 'Imperial Mandarin'

The Imperial mandarin is a large evergreen shrub to small tree that produces fruits with a pale smooth skin. It has glossy green dense foliage and perfumed white flowers, which are followed by edible fruit.

Citrus are mainly ornamental and practical plants for the garden and are commonly used as both a feature and for their produce.

Citrus thrive in a sunny, humid environment, and have low frost tolerance. They grow best in open free draining, fertile soils and like regular watering. Plant in an open sunny position and protect from frost. Can be grown in pots and containers.

Foliage Evergreen

Form Oval

Mature Size 3 x 3m

Family Rutaceae

Small

Evergreen

Oval

Fruiting & Edible

Specimen

Disclaimer: The material contained on the Speciality Trees website is for general information only. Although much care has been taken to provide the information on its website, Speciality Trees does not warrant the accuracy, completeness or currency of this information and its suitability to your needs. All material listed on the Speciality Trees website, its associated links and product sheets are varieties either ready for sale or in production. This is an information source and not confirmation of availability. It is strongly recommended that users enquire about product availability independently of this source.