
Corymbia citriodora 'Compact selection'

Corymbia citriodora, or Lemon Scented Gum, is a tall tree species native to Australia, known for its distinctive, refreshing lemon scent which emanates from its leaves. It has a smooth, pale bark that is often powdery white to pink in color, shedding in thin flakes. The tree can grow up to 20 meters tall in its natural habitat, making it a prominent feature of the landscape.

Form Oval

Mature Size -

Small

Oval

Disclaimer: The material contained on the Speciality Trees website is for general information only. Although much care has been taken to provide the information on its website, Speciality Trees does not warrant the accuracy, completeness or currency of this information and its suitability to your needs. All material listed on the Speciality Trees website, its associated links and product sheets are varieties either ready for sale or in production. This is an information source and not confirmation of availability. It is strongly recommended that users enquire about product availability independently of this source.