

Eucalyptus mannifera maculosa

RED SPOTTED GUM

A lovely medium sized tree for open spaces with a smooth powdery white, cream or grey trunk with red flecks through it. It naturally forms one trunk with a wide spreading canopy and grows relatively fast. It has narrow, thin green leaves and white flowers in the summer. It is adaptable to a wide range of conditions, known to tolerate poor soils and is a good choice for areas high in clay and shallow, rocky soils.

A suitable Australian native for parks and gardens with some open space. Great for wide streetscapes. Great for habitat for native birds and insects.

Although tolerant of most soils it prefers a free-draining soil in full sun.
