

Geijera parviflora

WILGA, NATIVE WILLOW

This is a slow growing native tree with attractive dark green foliage. Flowers are small and white and strongly-scented. With a rounded form to 9m, it has ornamental appeal in urban situations although has been traditionally hard to propagate.

Wilga is a useful shade and also street tree in dry areas and as a fodder tree in agricultural areas. Its leaves have medicinal qualities.

This tree is extremely hardy once established. It grows best in a position of full sun. Pruning when young for a nice shape is recommended, as well as removing dead branches underneath. It appears tolerant to a wide range of soil and climate types.

Foliage Evergreen
Form Oval
Mature Size 9 x 8m
Family Rutaceae

Medium	Evergreen	Oval	Avenue	Bird Attracting	Coastal	Feature Foliage	Native
Shade Tree	Signature Trees	Specimen

Disclaimer: The material contained on the Speciality Trees website is for general information only. Although much care has been taken to provide the information on its website, Speciality Trees does not warrant the accuracy, completeness or currency of this information and its suitability to your needs. All material listed on the Speciality Trees website, its associated links and product sheets are varieties either ready for sale or in production. This is an information source and not confirmation of availability. It is strongly recommended that users enquire about product availability independently of this source.