

Ulmus parvifolia 'Murray's Form'

MURRAY'S CHINESE ELM

Very graceful growing tree with horizontally ascending branching, becoming open with a rounded canopy. It has small glossy dark serrated green leaves, which turn bronze to yellow before falling off in late winter. Bark ages to patches of grey, green orange and brown tones.

Superb feature or shade tree for small to large gardens and parks. In groups as a windbreak. As a street tree in wider streets.

Prefers a sunny position in moist well drained soil. Tolerant to compacted soil, dry conditions, and short periods of wetness.

Foliage Deciduous

Form Branches
Ascending

Mature Size 10 x 8m

Family Ulmaceae

Medium

Deciduous

Branches Ascending

Coastal

Feature Bark

Group Planting

Shade Tree

Specimen

Disclaimer: The material contained on the Speciality Trees website is for general information only. Although much care has been taken to provide the information on its website, Speciality Trees does not warrant the accuracy, completeness or currency of this information and its suitability to your needs. All material listed on the Speciality Trees website, its associated links and product sheets are varieties either ready for sale or in production. This is an information source and not confirmation of availability. It is strongly recommended that users enquire about product availability independently of this source.